GEO. J. ENGELMANN, M. D.,
RESIDENCE, 3003 LOCUST ST.
OFFICE AND PRIVATE HOSPITAL FOR LADIES
511 GARRISON AVE., NORTH OF LOCUST.
HOURS, 2 TO 5 P. M.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov 12 1883

Dear D

I have just received enclosed, as it seems to me somewhat disappointed letter from D Parry - I am so sorry that I cannot ask him to do some work here and yet I would not now - as matters stand have him understood anything - as you do not seem to approve it - and it might not seem right toward Mr Shaw and Prof Trelease - Trelease is willing to do everything that is needed - always yielding and Mr Shaw seems to be yielding more and more -

I was astonished to hear Mr Eliot state - at the Inauguration of the Shaw School of Botany that Mr Shaw had promised the necessary funds for the publication - and reproduction of illustrations - and this seems to be

By Trobridge's idea - is it so?
will he furnish all that is needed for illustration and publication?
If so. I would like to add a picture of Father - the best that can be had - but if this is not so - please tell me whether you want money now - or when. and about how much -

So the school is inaugurated
- Dr Eliot spoke very nicely about Father work. how it may result in establishing this school &c - Tribune read and excellent paper - but read it fast - he was somewhat nervous and did not do his work justice. the paper was well written - interesting - served its object well -
- he will do better next time His class on Greece is beginning well - several of the most prominent ladies in the city have taken part
- two of them - I am happy to say

GEO. J. ENGELMANN, M. D.,
RESIDENCE, 3003 LOCUST ST.
OFFICE AND PRIVATE HOSPITAL FOR LADIES
511 GARRISON AVE., NORTH OF LOCUST.
HOURS, 2 TO 5 P. M.

St. Louis, Mo., ... 188

Ladies who can do the school and the object much good — Please return Pauy's letter — I have written him that he must make me the promised visit and that I hoped that he would look over matters a little with Tilton so as to familiarize himself with father's mode of management and work — as he took he made of deciphering many things which would be a mystery to T.

I will get along nicely with T. and as soon as we have the room heated I think that he will do some work here so he already seen things which need some looking to and seems very much interested and anxious to take hold —

I can also do something for him an occasional letter will reach me with botanical enquiries which I turn over to him. He - and the school will then become known - and he will come in contact with our students -

Then Bandelier who is living with his Pueblo Indians wishes to learn the plant used in medicinal and religious ceremonies examined chemically and in any way in order to decipher, if possible, their connection with the ceremony - this will be interesting work and I will bring the men in contact -

You see things seem to move on nicely and I am patiently waiting with the Herbarium
- and feel sure of placing it well right here when it belongs -

With kindest regards

Yours truly

Geo. J. Engelmann